General overview

Published since 2007, the Ibrahim Index of African Governance (IIAG) was created to provide a quantifiable tool to measure and monitor governance performance in African countries, to assess its progress over time and to support the development of effective and responsive policy solutions. These aims remain the same and the IIAG now represents the most comprehensive collection of data on African governance. In order to provide a broad, documented and impartial picture of governance performance in every African country, the IIAG compiles a large amount of data issued by diverse sources.

The entire Index time series is updated on an annual basis to ensure that each new IIAG provides the most accurate data available. This process ensures that the Index is the most robust and up-to-date dashboard of the state of governance in every African country.

As assessed by the IIAG, governance is defined as the provision of the political, social and economic public goods and services that every citizen has the right to expect from their state, and that a state has the responsibility to deliver to its citizens. The IIAG focuses on measuring outputs and outcomes of policy, rather than declarations of intent, de jure statutes and levels of expenditure. This is reflected in the IIAG tree diagram below, which outlines the structure and issues covered by the Index.

Introducing banding in the 2016 IIAG

For the first time, the 2016 IIAG introduces groups of countries based on their score. There are five groups which range from high to low performance: "High", "Medium-High", "Medium", "Medium-Low" and "Low".

These groups have been derived using k-means clustering analysis, which determines the banding thresholds within a given category. These cut-off points determine the band in which countries sit.

Each category has a different cut-off point as a result of the units of measurement being diverse and specific to the category.

The Overall Governance bands are a simple aggregate of the category cut-off points. The cut-off points for the bands are:

	OVERALL GOVERNANCE	SAFETY & RULE OF LAW	PARTICIPATION & HUMAN RIGHTS	SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY	HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

CÔTE D'IVOIRE

The significant improvement registered by Côte d'Ivoire in Overall Governance (+13.1), makes it the most improved country over the past decade. This remarkable progress has also seen the country register year-on-year improvement since 2011 to reach its highest ever score in Overall Governance in 2015 (52.3 out of 100.0). It is also one of only 13 countries to have achieved balanced improvement across all four categories of the Index.

Counter to the average continental negative trend for the category, Côte d'Ivoire has registered significant progress in Safety & Rule of Law (+17.3), its highest scoring category in 2015 (55.1), to become the most improved country on the continent in this measure over the last decade. It has improved across all four sub-categories, registering the largest gains in Accountability (+25.0), in which it is the only country to show year-on-year improvement and improve in all underlying indicators, and is also the most improved country in Personal Safety (+16.6). However, the indicator Government Involvement in Armed Conflict in the National Security sub-category shows the country's largest deterioration (of 93 indicators) over the decade.

Côte d'Ivoire is also the second most improved country on the continent in Participation & Human Rights (+18.6), after Tunisia. It is the only country to have shown consistently improved performance in this category every year over the decade, driven by positive trends in Participation (+36.5) and Rights (+19.3). Three of the underlying indicators of the Participation sub-category feature among the ten most improved over the decade. Côte d'Ivoire's performance in Gender (-0.2), the only sub-category in which it registers a deterioration over the decade, has been pulled down by a notable deterioration in the indicator Laws on Violence against Women.

In Sustainable Economic Opportunity, Côte d'Ivoire shows positive trends across all four sub-categories, registering strong progress in Infrastructure (+11.6), and in Business Environment (+13.3 making it the third most improved country), despite the sharp decline registered by some indicators, in particular Statistical Capacity and Soundness of Banks.

In Human Development, the positive trend (+7.8) is driven by marked progress in Welfare (+12.1) and Education (+11.1), however Côte d'Ivoire remains in the bottom half of the rankings (35th) in this category. A notable decline is registered by the indicator Immunisation.

In 2015, Côte d'Ivoire features in the middle rankings of West Africa: 5th (out of 15) in Overall Governance, 9th in Safety & Rule of Law and Participation & Human Rights and 7th in Human Development. It registers its strongest regional performance in Sustainable Economic Opportunity, ranking joint 3rd with Gambia and Ghana. Apart from Sustainable Economic Opportunity, its category scores are below the regional averages.

However, Côte d'Ivoire's notable progress over the decade makes it the most improved country in the region overall, in Safety & Rule of Law (+17.3) and Participation & Human Rights (+18.6), second most improved in Human Development (+7.8) and third in Sustainable Economic Opportunity (+8.7).

Côte d'Ivoire shows the largest improvement in West Africa in five of the 14 sub-categories: Participation (+36.5), Accountability (+25.0), Rights (+19.3), Personal Safety (+16.6) and Education (+11.1). Côte d'Ivoire's positive trends in Personal Safety (+16.6) and National Security (+14.3) run counter to the overall decline registered in the region, of -2.2 points and -0.9 points respectively.

The 2016 IIAG covers a 16-year data period from 2000 to 2015. The full IIAG data set, including underlying raw data and normalised scores, as calculated for the express purposes of the Index, is available online at:

<http://mo.ibrahim.foundation/iiag/downloads/>.

All figures on IIAG outputs are displayed to one decimal place. The calculation method to arrive at these scores is as follows:

- Country scores are calculated on full-precision raw data values (using the exact values as they are collected from source). All scores are then rounded to one decimal place.
- Group averages are calculated on the rounded, one decimal place country scores.
- Both trends over time and ranks are calculated on the scores to one decimal place.

Forty-one indicators were formed by clustering together a number of underlying sub-indicators which each measure the same dimension or similar concept. For each indicator the sub-indicators may come from the same or multiple sources. The value of a clustered indicator is the average of the underlying sub-indicators.

Analysis of trends over time (improvements and deteriorations) take into consideration a ten-year period: 2006-2015 (unless otherwise stated). References to the last ten years or the last decade refer to this time period.

The 2016 IIAG does not include data for South Sudan prior to secession in 2011. Due to the lack of data, ten-year trends have not been calculated for this country. The absence of South Sudan scores prior to 2011 means that 53 countries are ranked in 2000 to 2010 inclusive and 54 countries are ranked in 2011 to 2015 inclusive. This should be taken into account when looking at rank change over time. Similarly, averages calculated for groups which include South Sudan exclude the country in pre-secession years.

Data for Sudan prior to 2011 (Former Sudan) have been used in the 2016 IIAG. Despite Sudan being a new country post-secession of South Sudan, pre-2011 data for 'Former Sudan' are deemed a suitable proxy for governance in Sudan.

Where reference is made to population statistics, these were obtained from the United Nations, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, Population Division (2015): World Population Prospects: The 2015 Revision. Data were downloaded on 11 July 2016. Where reference is made to Gross Domestic Product (GDP) statistics, these were obtained from the World Economic Outlook Database. Data were downloaded on 08 August 2016. For both these, data for South Sudan are included in totals or percentages post-2011.

The Mo Ibrahim Foundation (MIF) is aware that some sources update their data sets after our documentation is sent to print. IIAG raw data are correct as per the data "last accessed", which is stated for each indicator within the Data Portal (downloadable via our website).
